

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

SECRET OF ATTRACTION

From the beginning of time the girl who is neat about her person has attracted the attention and admiration of her associates. Some are born neat others have to be trained towards neatness. When a girl is little the mother usually looks after the combing of her hair, etc., and the little one gives no thought to such things herself. But from the age of twelve to the time she reaches young womanhood a girl is often apt to be careless, and unless great care is given to her training she is likely to grow slovenly.

One of the most important of the many little things that a girl should be particular about is the care of her hands and finger nails. Everyone cannot afford a manicure but ten minutes a day spent with one's hands will produce wonderful results. The nails should never be allowed to grow too long and should always be kept even and absolutely clean. What may be called "mildly hands" will often ruin the whole effect of an otherwise well groomed girl. If the hands are tanned a little lemon juice rubbed on at night will produce a whitening effect.

One of the remarks so often made in regard to the young girl is that she would be nice looking if only her teeth were kept in good condition. One of the surest and most reliable proofs of a refined personality is cleanliness about one's person, and surely the keeping of pearly white teeth is important. Many tooth pastes are hard on the teeth because of their texture. A reliable paste or powder can be found, however, and may be used once a day. When washing the teeth after meals though, it is wiser to use clear water. Some use powdered pumice about once a month; this removes the tartar, that is bound to form on one's teeth.

Soft silky tresses too, are admired by everyone. The care of the hair is sometimes tedious but the results are justifiable. One of the first steps towards lovely hair is brushing. It is well when brushing the hair to divide it into two parts. The most systematic way is to count the strokes. Fifty for each side is quite sufficient though more will do the hair no harm. Many complain that brushing only brings the oil to the surface, this is true, but as a certain amount will produce the oil, so many more strokes will remove it from the hair.

Ever since the young girls have taken to growing up at fourteen and fifteen they have taken steps towards the elimination of their hair by snarling and back combing, in to cover a "rat." There are, however, a few girls of this age who still wear their hair in braids and they invariably have beautiful thick locks. In the mind picture the school girl always wears her hair in a braid tied with a large bow, but alas in reality she knots it on the top of her head without any ribbon at all. A soft silky arrangement of young girl's hair only enhances the beauty and neatness of her appearance.

Not the least important item in a girl's makeup are her shoes and stockings. Probably it is through neglect and carelessness that a girl will leave home in the morning without having carefully polished her boots. One young girl who was extremely particular about her footwear used to carry in her book satchel a small piece of flannel with which she rubbed the dust from her shoes after reaching the school house. Girls who are blessed with small feet often think they need not be so particular. But it is just as necessary for them to wear neat, well-polished shoes as for those who wear a larger size. Heels that are run down, too, denote carelessness, for they can always be straightened in a short time and at a small expense. Another of the details concerning one's shoes that is often omitted is the button. The absence of just one button at the very bottom of the shoe sometimes does not cause the wearer any discomfort mentally or physically but it often causes comment on the part of the observer.

Now as to stockings: "Ladders" are bound to make their appearance in one's hose, but if attention is given to them when they are first noticed—well, a stitch in time saves nine. Stockings often wear most quickly at the heel. This is caused by the rubbing of the shoe that is a size too large, and may be easily avoided if a piece of velvet is fastened at the heel of the shoe. So many of the girls are careless about mending the first tiny hole that appears but unless it is darned immediately its size will soon increase to the extent that it will show above the low tie.

In this tropical climate the school girl seldom wears a high collar. But the girl who does wear them with her coat suit should be careful to change every day. The collar that is worn two days has a limp appearance and detracts from the freshness of the wearer.

Neatness within is just as necessary as neatness without, though it is not always practiced by everyone. So often a girl who is wearing a dainty lingerie frock will for some reason show the edge of her drop skirt, and instead of being snow white it is ragged and soiled. To most every one this will ruin the whole effect of the costume of an outwardly well groomed girl.

Many of the new long, dress sleeves are set on a long shoulder line.

ENROLLMENT AT PUNAHOU BREAKS RECORD

The registration at Punahou this year in both the college and the preparatory school was large. The final figures for the first day's enrollment at both schools have just been made up. Two hundred and three registered at the college. The figures have hovered around 200 for the last two or three years, but it is believed at the college that this is the biggest first day's number on record. As there are only 209 seats in the assembly hall, there is every prospect of a full house when the late arrivals come straggling in.

The first day at the preparatory school saw 408 enrolled. As compared with 367 in 1911, and 336 in 1910, this shows an increase which is accounted for only in part by the new building and additional teachers.

The music department shows also a large enrollment. Miss Clarke, Miss Caldwell and Mrs. Ewing, in the piano department, have been busy straightening out schedules for the numerous pupils. Miss Collins, who took some special courses in voice this summer at the Coast, has her usual large enrollment, which includes many adults. Mr. Miltner is planning to form an orchestra among the pupils in the violin department and later give a concert.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR OF Y. W. C. A. BEGINS WORK

Miss Margaret Christy Tupper, who will have charge of the physical work of the Y. W. C. A. arrived yesterday on the Honolulu and will begin her duties at once. Miss Tupper comes here well recommended and prepared for her work and has already outlined her plans for the fall and winter work. She is a graduate of Tufts College and has had a special course in physical training at Dr. Sargent's school. She has also had experience in teaching, having had the physical culture department in conjunction with physiology in high school work. Miss Tupper expects to spend the remainder of the month in organizing classes and will begin the regular work on October 1. She will teach Swedish, gymnastics, calisthenics, wand drills, folk dancing and fencing, and there will also be classes in swimming, rowing, indoor gymnastics, basketball and tennis. Two evenings a week will be devoted to indoor physical culture exercises.

There has been a large number of registrations for physical classes sent in and also many inquiries concerning the classes in languages which are being formed and it is of the opinion that an unusually busy year with pleasing results lies before the Y. W. C. A.

K. P.'S TO DISCUSS MERGER OF LODGES

For the purpose of discussing the proposed amalgamation of Oahu, Mytic and William McKinley Lodges, the three local Pythian lodges will hold a joint meeting at their hall on upper Fort street this evening.

The purpose of this proposed amalgamation is to give the members of the three lodges now under existence a better opportunity of entertainment without adding to the expense necessary to carry on the lodge work. All three of the lodges are in a flourishing condition at the present time, and the proposed union will make the new Pythian lodge one of the strongest organizations of its kind in the Territory.

CIVIC FEDERATION PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

Five members of the civic federation were present at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the public service rooms, and as there were not enough members present to constitute a quorum, matters were discussed informally and unofficially.

The arrival of the new public drinking fountains and of the new metallic street signs was reported, and the most important matter discussed was the report of the educational committee on vocational schools. The subject will be taken up at the next meeting of the federation with a view to supporting and carrying out the suggestion.

Reports were submitted to the federation showing the desirability of taking definite action with reference to the systematic development of the streets to be laid out on Punchbowl slopes. These reports stated the desirability of placing sewer, water and gas pipes, paving the streets and, if possible, of the laying of all the wires, of the government electric, Hawaiian electric, police and fire calls and telephone wires in underground conduits. It was stated that the superintendent of public works was in favor of the laying out of the streets in accordance with the suggestions.
